APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old.
In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible, one's youthful appearance.
It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxuriant growth of hair.
The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing worm, which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness.
Newbro's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of the worm, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use.
Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as a Dandruff cure.
Accept no substitute—there is none.
Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamp for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
One Dollar Bottles Guaranteed.

15 HURT IN TRAIN WRECK.

Broken Rail Throws All the Coaches Off the Track.

Lamont, Mo., Dec. 3.—Fifteen persons were injured, one seriously, when the coaches on the Missouri Pacific railroad passenger train No. 4, from Kansas City to St. Louis, left the track yesterday.
The train, which left Kansas City at 9:15 o'clock Thursday night, was composed of a mail car, a baggage car, a smoker, a chair car and two Pullmans.
All the coaches were thrown off the track by a broken rail. Three rolled down a 23-foot embankment and turned over.

About the State

September 7, 1911, will be the 150th anniversary of the founding of the town of Rutland, when some public celebration will probably be held to commemorate the event.

Navigation on Lake Champlain, so far as the Champlain Transportation Co. is concerned, will end December 17, when the steamer Ticonderoga will make the last trip of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pearson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary November 17 at the home of their son in New Haven. They were presented a purse of $20 in gold and other gifts.

Ralph Beebe fell from a piazza root in East Dorset last week, striking on his head and shoulders on the marble below. Concussion of the brain resulted, from which he died Tuesday.

Samuel E. Seagar has sold about 14 acres west of the village of Brandon to Perry S. Dudgeon of New York City.
The property has recently been tested for marble and is said to contain a valuable deposit. The work of opening a quarry will be begun at once and a marble mill will be erected.

An important customs seizure has been made at Newport. While examining cars of bales received from a Canadian point over the Canadian Pacific railway, customs officers discovered a large quantity of butter and cheese packed in the bales in one car. The car was placed under seizure, and efforts are being made to locate those responsible for the smuggling.

Charles Thompson, a colored man, who worked for Elmer Martin in Milton, was seriously injured Sunday night while at work, when he was kicked in the head by a horse. Thompson is in the hospital at the Mary Fletcher hospital, but an operation was not possible, as his skull was crushed. There is no hope of his recovery.
Where he came from or who his relatives are is unknown.

This instance of honesty should go on record, as book borrowers are not noted for good memories. Twenty-six years ago, when Mrs. James Crawford, now of West Charleston, in this state, was living in Stoneham, Mass., she loaned a book to a friend. So long ago was it that Mrs. Crawford had forgotten about the loan, but last week she received the book, together with a new volume, from the friend, who now lives in Tolosa, Fla.

The Rutland Railroad company has made its plans for building a new long side-track at the station of Bartonville, and work will be begun upon it early in the spring. The siding is to be long enough to hold 50 freight cars, two locomotives and a caboose. It is to be located on the west side of the main line.
There was no siding which would hold a freight train between Bellows Falls and Chester, and the object of the new siding is to facilitate the passing of trains at that point.

Vermont's Noted Woman.

Mrs. Mary Bradley, who died not long since in Beloit, Wis., was a native of this state, having been born in the town of Albany, and has a record of which anyone might be proud. She was born in 1828, her mother dying when she was very small. She spent her early days in Lowell, Mass., where she worked in a cloth factory, but in the meantime secured an education and became a teacher. With her foster parents, she went to Wisconsin in 1854. Her school was closed here because of the war, and the governor of that state chose her as a field agent to go South to the war.
She accepted the post and went with the Tenth Wisconsin infantry. She went onto the battlefield literally piled with the dead and told of coming from those scenes with her skirts literally soaked with the blood of the wounded soldiers.
She worked for two years without pay and did hospital work, was once captured and suffered all the privations the men suffered. She acted four years as nurse, knew Clara Barton and took many long messages from the dying boys in the South to be sent to their folks at home. Mr. Bradley, whom she later married, was a soldier, and it was while she was dressing his wounds, Mr. Bradley said, that he first loved her. Mr.
Bradley was wounded in the battle between Nashville, and it was in this same battle that her brother was shot. The nurses speak of her as Beloit's "Florence Nightingale."

AN OLD PLAN REVIVED

That of the New York Central Branch to Connect With Rutland R. R.

Rutland, Dec. 2.—The project of the possibility of the New York Central branch building a branch line from Shattsbury to North Adams, Mass., so as to connect the Rutland railroad with the Boston & Albany, and the Harlem line into New York City, is the revival of a plan which was proposed about 20 years ago and which is remembered by local railroad men.

At that time Pingree & Barker of Pittsfield, Mass., were engaged to go over the ground between North Adams and Bennington and A. J. Withers of North Adams was associated with them in looking up preliminary estimates as to rights of way which would be required. Several routes were considered and surveys made.

One plan discussed was for the connection to be made with the present line of the Albany branch near the Wil-burt farm in North Adams, below the point where it crosses under the Boston & Maine railroad. Thence the line was to cross the data and go through another tunnel south of the present little tunnel of the Boston & Maine and so avoid passing through the most congested part of North Adams.

It is said that such a line would save 40 miles in the New York Central's present connection between New York and Montreal and the route was seriously considered.
